March 2-3, 2012 in Dallas, Texas

If you are even remotely interested in creating wealth and true freedom, then this may be the most important letter you will ever read.

Here's why:

All of the news media is negative today. Unemployment is at all time highs, businesses are closing, the stock market is very volatile and the housing market is in the tank. In other words, all of the conventional wisdom that we have been told about getting a good education to get a good job or career and working hard to have a safe and secure retirement are simply not true...they are myths and lies that have been passed down from generation to generation.

That's the bad news – how about the good news?

Chaos creates opportunity for those who are willing to take action! We are currently living in the Perfect Storm for real estate investing. You see, America is on SALE! Real estate is selling today for, in many cases, a fraction of what it sold for just a few short years ago!

Today it is very possible to buy very good property at well-below its replacement cost. But better than that, property today will CASH FLOW like never before... well into the double-digit returns.

"Banks are not lending" you say. That's correct and just one more reason why we are able to buy at such deep discounts.

We have a system that creates the opportunities that are waiting in your own back yard. Use them and build your own wealth creation program.
